Toronto.

Dear Mr. Russell:

Many thanks for your letter. I am sending it on to Professor Angus with a view to his considering whether he ought not to supplement his report in the direction that you suggest. With many thanks for your care in this matter.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

My dear Mr. Russell:

Many thanks for your letter. I shall be glad to see Mr. Cook.

With regard to the Y.M.C.A. I think that the amount that is mentioned in the budget for salaries is not out of the way. At the beginning of the war it was greatly reduced, but it was found that one man simply could not handle the variety of work that they have to do. They undertake all sorts of activities for the welfare of the students as a whole. The $1800 that is put down was given to Mr. Ferris who has served very well indeed during the war. That was what was paid to his predecessor before the war and you know how prices have gone up since.

Yours sincerely,

President.
